

Knicker Nicker

It seems we have a phantom Knicker nicker on camp, if you have any knickers exposed please cover them up and keep them safe.

One Spanish Girl is missing 10 thongs in the last few days. We have reasons to believe that it might be a gang of people that stole them and would eventually try to sell them.

If someone offers you a thong or large pair of knickers then don't buy them!

But, in any case... be careful! They might try to spike your drinks with the thongs.

NB. A thong is a very tiny piece of lacy string, usually very difficult to see, and used to cover the female naughty bits.

Carribean Toga Party

Tomorrow's village party is a Carribean toga party! Everyone must dress up in a toga!

Problems London

In London yesterday it was reported by our secret insider that two Germans were found by the British police trying to escape from a peep show without paying.

The description given by the Police was they resembled Animal from The Muppets and A very old looking Arnold Schwarzeneger.

The Police have requested that any information given that results in the arrest of the two fugitives will be rewarded.

Music Workshop

Boris and Andreas would like you to take part in the Music workshop and Camp concert rehearsals, but you need to start rehearsing now to be ready for the night.

If you have a talent, can sing, dance, tell jokes, produce small animals from crevices, then contact them now.
